

	Criteria	Using a scale from 1 to 5, with 1 being "Unsatisfactory" to 5 being "Exemplary," please enter that score on each row below.	Explain significant deductions for each criterion in this space.
Research Topic & Team Composition This score is triple weighted	This project clearly demonstrates the CRP theme, is highly innovative, and required rigorous research and/or creativity for which at least three different disciplines had to collaborate.
Written Research Report	Report is clear, focused, and coherent.
	Critical thinking skills are evident: i.e. summary, synthesis, analysis, interpretation, logical reasoning, transformation of knowledge.
	Written report is 12-20 double-spaced pages (title page, citations, & appendices included in pg. count).
	Report is cohesive and well-written, with few errors in mechanics and grammar, and with consistently formatted citations.
	Report provides a strong theoretical support and literature review to support the research.
	Report describes a rigorous and well-documented research method; work effort is balanced among team members.
Poster Presentation	Poster clearly displays the title, identify the authors and their fields, and explain the research problem and its significance.
	Poster content clearly outlines the objectives of the research, the methods, results, and conclusions.
	Poster content is engaging, creative, and aesthetically appealing; layout and design create a logical flow with a good balance of textual and graphic elements.
	Poster presentation is highly legible (adequate resolution) with accurate and clear labeling and accurate grammar.
Oral Presentation	Presenter/s are audible, clear, and focused, with a good use of non-verbal communication, and exhibit a clear plan for a fluid presentation.
	Presenter/s explain field-specific terminology, clearly communicate "big picture" concepts, and explain broader implications of research and/or calls for action.
	Presenter/s are eager to engage, speak extemporaneously, and answer questions thoroughly but concisely.
	Presenter/s refer to their slides but expand on the project beyond what's represented on the slides. (Up to 10 slides of content from the poster may be shown during oral presentation, and those slides may not contain content that was not on the poster. Slides serve as a visual adaptation of the poster without additional content.)
Overall Collaboration This score is triple weighted	The project shows a unique and skillful approach to collaborative research. This was clearly expressed in both the written and oral elements.
